QUEEN'S OWN IN SONG CAPTURES ALL NEW YORK

Regiment Arrives From Toronto to Take Part in Military Show.

We've come to call on Yankee Doodle;
We're the Queen's Own, every one.
Hurrah, hurray! for Yankee Doodle,
He's a regular on of a gun!
Singing these words to the tune of George M. Cohan's "Yankee Doodle Boy," 891 clean-cut, well-groomed men of the Queen's Own Rifles, of Toronto, Canada, Col. Sir Henry Pellatt, com-manding, rolled into the New York Central's freight yards, at Sixty-second street and Eleventh avenue, in two secday coaches and a sleeper at 11.50 this morning, amid the cheers and hurrans of a growd of several hundred friends who had assembled to greet them.

Police Capt. Burfeind and twenty-five patrolmen kept the crowd back while the regiment formed in line and marched up "San Juan Hill" to the Twelfth Regiment Armory, at Sixty-second street and Columbus avenue, where officers and men will be quertered while in the city. The regiment is here to take part in the military tournament at Madison Square Garden, and will march from the armory to-night and to-morrow night to the Garden. Col. Pallett in speaking of the trip

Proud of His Men.

"We are 891 men to the good as we stand and just the same up to a cartridge as when we left our armory yesterday evening. I am very proud of the fact that we got away in the shape we did and have found no unpleasant incident on the trip.
"I feel like boasting over our performance in loading at Toronto last night. In just exactly four minutes from the time the first four in line struck the train the wheels were moving with every man alloated to the section in his place. The second section pulled out four and a half minutes after the first men entered the car.

"I will be quartered the same as the rest of the men at the Twelfth Regiment Armory. We will hold services there at 9 o'clock on Sunday morning. and I will be glad to see any visitors who care to attend."

Surgeon-Major Palmer reported to Col. Pellate that the only thing that required his attention as to the health of the men during the trip was a bruised thumb on the hand of a private who had been opening "jack pots" and a can of sardines at the same time. The uniform worn by the regiment is an astrachan cap, with a little cockade an astrachan cap, with a little cockade of red and dark green at the front, and as they march they present a very dressy but business-like appearance.

The regiment is one of the very "swell" ones of the Domision, and is composed of "gentlemen's sons" and "good fellows." being recruited from the ranks of bank clerks and students and young business men.

""Bese" is Honorary Colore!

"Bobs" Is Honorary Colonel. "Bobs" Is Honorary Colonel.

Lord Roberts, of England, is the honorary colonel, and the souvenirs carried by the regiment are indicative of favor by persons of quality.

As the regiment marched up "San Juan Hill," making a roundabout course to the armory to give the men a chance to stretch after the night in the cars, the colored population of that districturned outfin forceto follow the band and were a matter of great curiosity to the greater part of the regiment.

For Men with an Exacting Disposition

Distinctive Suits at Fifteen to Forty-five Dollars.

It is better that men should ask why your product finds a place on high than why it does not.

Granted that there be a doubt, we can demonstrate to you why our garments for men have found a high place.

The basic reason lies in our tailoring system. It was devised to do a thing better than it ever had been done -especially the little things.

Our garments are cut individually -- the two sides of a coat, the two sleeves and so on, stay with each other as a specific garment. In our suits you will find the cloth and interlining cut to the same size the canvas and even the stay-tapes shrunken, and if the fabric be a plaid or a stripe you will find the pattern on the sleeves, pockets. cuffs and trousers to meet and match the body of the garment. Such are the little things.

The big things are beyond the narrow limits of a tapestring. They have their source in expressive tailoring which promises a measure of distinctiveness and character that makes a garment ready for the service of even the exacting men.

The best of it all is this: The same system governs the production, and the same tailormen fashion the suits at fifteen dollars and those at forty-five. Do you understand the inference?

They put him in a patrol wagon and took him dripping, but not in the least subdued, to Harlem Police Court.

Wet but Full of Song.

On the way he astonished dwellers in the street through which the wagon passed by roaring forth in a voice to drown a gale another selection from his well-stocked repertoire. It went like this:

| Dr and down fo be, ye he, Rouse the hawser in.
| The officers had difficulty in quieting him when they arraigned him before Magistrate Crane. The Migistrate couldn't resist making a pun upon Coffey's name, which the sailor talied to appreciate. He was sent back to the court prison to sober up and will be released te-morrow.

When court closed his thunderous tones were still issuing from the cells in spite of the keeper's unappreciative attempts to stop it:

RADICAL AND CONSERVATIVE SUMMER MODELS

At $10.00 to $25.00

If you demand that manner of tailoring which merely holds a garment together, you have no need for us. Our standard demands more than that. Holding the garment together is incidental. Tailoring, as we understand it, must be expressive -must define distinctiveness, character and the radical innovations which should identify a suit designed specifically for young men. This holds true whether the garment be one at ten dollars or one at twenty-five.

New Long Single and Double Breasted Models with all the season's kinks, such as false vents, deep lapels and kindred marks of distinctiveness, fashioned of various fabrics in plaids, stripes, mix-tures and plain colors. $10.00 to $25.00 tures and plain colors.
